The Divider is a unique machine that distinguishes itself in precision and ease of use. Thanks to our expertise in artificial intelligence, we were able to create a machine with high capacity combined with the utmost precision. As a result, this machine can handle unsorted field crops with no problems. This means that the Divider can be placed at the beginning of the production process, which leads to less wear, product damage, pollution, and waste. This results in increased sustainability. In short, the Divider is the missing link in your production process.
